JOBLESSNESS HOLDS STEADY AT 11.3 PERCENT

Unemployment in Michigan remained at 11.3 percent for the third consecutive month. The July jobless rate represents 506,000 unemployed individuals, approximately 3,000 more than the total of a month ago. Total employment in July, climbed by 26,000 to 3,975,000 as job gains were centered in construction and tourist related industries. Additionally, the July employment level was the highest level recorded in the state since November 1979 when it reached 4,006,000. Michigan's labor force showed a slight increase of 29,000 in July, largely in response to summer jobseekers entering the labor market in search of work. Compared with a year ago, employment in the state has jumped by 133,000, while the size of the labor force has grown by 62,000. In July 1983, the total number of persons out of work amounted to 577,000, representing an unemployment rate of 13.1 percent.

SLIGHT DECLINE IN STATE EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Michigan's nonagricultural wage and salary employment slipped downward as total industry jobs dipped to 3,283,000 in July. Employment opportunities dropped by approximately 15,000 as minor nonmanufacturing gains were easily offset by manufacturing and governmental losses. Total manufacturing employment at 937,400, slipped by 5,500 with the majority of losses centered in the primary and fabricated metals industry. Private nonmanufacturing employment advanced by 1,700 to 1,804,200 in July, as construction, wholesale trade and services experienced minor gains . Public sector payrolls fell by 11,200 with most of the decrease appearing at the local level . Since July 1983, industry employment in Michigan has increased by 101,100 positions or 3.2 percent. Approximately 65,000 manufacturing jobs have been added throughout the year, while nonmanufacturing jobs have climbed by 54,200. Government payrolls slipped by 18,100 over the same time period.

CIVILIAN LABOR FORCE data are based on the monthly Current Population Survey of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics -- 1983 Benchmark.

WAGE AND SALARY EMPLOYMENT is based on a monthly sample of employing establishments as part of the co-operative federal-state Current Employment Statistics program — March 1983 Benchmark.

CLAIMS ACTIVITY

The number of individuals collecting regular unemployment benefits in Michigan increased for the first time in six months during the month of July. The regular benefits claims load averaged 104,925 per week in July, approximately 8,425 or 8.7 percent higher than the month ago total. In July 1983, the number of claimants drawing benefits under the regular benefit program averaged 128,280.

Conversely, the number of persons collecting benefits under the Federal Supplemental Compensation (FSC) program dipped by 1,475 or 6.6 percent. Total individuals collecting FSC benefits amounted to 20,825 per week. The Extended Benefit (EB) program ended on May 21, 1983, thereby disqualifying claimants from collecting benefits under that program.

SLIGHT RISE IN DETROIT AREA PRICES

The Consumer Price Index for the Detroit metropolitan area increased by five tenths of a percent over the month to reach 307.7 in July. The rise in Detroit area prices was primarily due to increased medical care, food and housing costs. Prices in the area rose by 3.1 percent since July 1983, when the Consumer Price Index stood at 298.4.

At the national level, the cost of living increased by one full point to reach 311.7. The higher national prices were due to additional costs for medical care and housing. Between July 1983 and July 1984, national consumer prices rose by 4.1 percent. One year ago, the national index registered 299.3.

HOURS AND EARNINGS

The average workweek of Michigan's production workers in manufacturing industries fell from 43.4 hours in June to 42.2 hours in July. The decrease occurred primarily as a result of fewer hours worked by individuals in the automotive and related industries.

During the month, average hourly earnings inched upward by one cent to $12.25, while average weekly earnings dropped by $13.89 to total $517.35. In July 1983, earnings averaged $11.64 an hour or $489.86 per week for a 42.1 hour workweek.
